Course Information

Three days in Chicago, from the system fundamentals to live surgery and a full PRF day.

This is not a lecture hall course. You spend three days at Midwest Center for Dentistry and Implants in Bensenville, a working implant practice minutes from O'Hare, moving from the system fundamentals and a hands-on workshop to live surgery observation and case review, then a full PRF day with Dr. Rick Miron.

WHAT YOU'LL LEARN

- Run a repeatable surgical and restorative implant workflow
- Select cases and plan treatment around implant design and surface
- Handle healing caps, scan bodies, multi-unit abutments and bridge seating hands-on, on models
- Watch real-time surgical decision-making in a live case, then review complications and troubleshooting
- Integrate digital planning, guided surgery and intraoral scanning into daily practice
- Plan cases the way the lab needs them and choose the right components
- Prepare PRF membranes, plugs and sticky bone, and apply them to extractions, grafting and esthetics
- Build the patient journey, financing and treatment coordinator role that drive case acceptance

WHO SHOULD ATTEND

General dentists adding or expanding implant placement, restorative dentists who want to understand the surgical side, and clinicians who want PRF in their protocol. Bring your treatment coordinator for the Thursday afternoon business and growth session.

WHY THIS COURSE IS DIFFERENT

Everything happens in one working practice. Lecture in the morning, instruments in your hands by one o'clock, live surgery observed the next day, and a full PRF day with Dr. Rick Miron on the third. Groups stay small so every attendee gets reps, questions get answered, and you leave with a workflow you can run Monday morning.
